

Valves for Power

L&T Valves, a leader in flow-control solutions for supercritical power plants, provides unmatched value to the global power sector. Leveraging a five-decade heritage of excellence, we manufacture valves that address the entire spectrum of power plant applications.

The portfolio comprises power valves in ASME classes up to 4500 and a comprehensive range of accessories and customised solutions. The products are designed using state-of-the-art 3D design and analysis software; rigorous prototype tests guarantee that the high-end solutions exceed customer expectations.

Our advanced project management capability ensures that product deliveries match project schedules. We also offer asset management support for the entire life cycle of the products.
